Wellness Network

Future Member Guide

This guide contains information to help members of the UT community learn more about Wellness Network and to decide how to get involved.

What is Wellness Network?
Wellness Network is not a single department or building. We are a collaboration of people, departments, and organizations across campus. The Wellness Network brings together advocates for health and wellness from across UT-Austin in order to share information, strategies, and resources.

Who is Involved?
Our current membership represents students, faculty, and staff from over 100 areas and organizations, including:

- University Health Services
- Counseling and Mental Health Center
- Dell Medical School
- Division of Recreational Sports
- Student Government
- Division of Housing and Food Service
- Office of the Dean of Students
- Services for Students with Disabilities
- Office of the Vice President for Student Affairs
- School of Social Work
- Gender and Sexuality Center
- Department of Kinesiology & Health Education
- Department of Curriculum and Instruction
- The Fitness Institute of Texas
- Texas Public Health Student Organization
- Campus Environmental Center
- University Unions
- UT Human Resources
- Graduate Student Assembly
- Healthyhorns Peer Educators
- Center for Health Communication
- International Office
- UT Police Department
- UT Athletics
- Center for Students in Recovery
- Army ROTC
- Navy ROTC
- UTHealth School of Public Health Austin Regional Campus
- College of Natural Sciences, School of Human Ecology
- TIP Scholars Program

Where Do I Fit In?
A healthy campus cannot be achieved by any single group or organization. We all play a role. The Wellness Network strives to have representatives from across campus, building a coalition of people, departments, and organizations throughout UT-Austin.

Being a member of Wellness Network may fit within your professional role on campus or may be a way to fulfill a personal passion for health and wellness.

I’m Ready to Join!
Imagine a campus where the healthy choice is the easy choice. That’s what members of Wellness Network are working toward together. We are looking forward to having you to join us. Review our New Member Guide to help you decide how to get started.
